Welcome

Your credit profile gives you an idea of how lenders and service providers may view you when you want to open credit accounts with them. Lenders will normally check your credit history as part of the process when reviewing your application. The healthier your credit profile, the more likely it is that you will be given credit at lower interest rates.

Credit Tracker gives you comprehensive information about your TransUnion Credit Profile, Credit Score and a range of helpful services. In this brochure you'll find everything you need to know about them. It tells you how to view your TransUnion Credit Report online and set up your credit profile alerts. Please read through this brochure including the detailed terms and conditions and remember to keep it in a safe place so you can refer to it in the future.

For your peace of mind, once we've validated your details with TransUnion, we'll let you know if anything significant changes in your credit profile, so you can see how your credit activity affects you. Explaining your TransUnion Credit Report

Your TransUnion Credit Report is a summary of your financial commitments held by TransUnion. We've designed it so you can clearly see the status of your credit accounts and the information held on your TransUnion Credit Profile.

When lenders are deciding whether to grant you credit, they'll review the type of information that will be contained in your TransUnion Credit Report. With Credit Tracker, you can be sure you have a comprehensive picture of your credit profile held by TransUnion and how it could affect your credit status.

It's good to check your Credit Report regularly so you can see how the decisions you make affect your Credit Score. If there is something you don't recognise or are unsure of, then call us, we can help you move in the right direction.

Your Credit Score

This gives an indication of how creditworthy you are. Lenders don't see this score but they will look at the type of information used to calculate the score when deciding whether to give you credit or not. The higher your score, the more creditworthy you are in a lender's eyes.

If your score is lower, you may have more difficulty obtaining credit or pay higher interest rates.

We can give you tips on how to improve your score.

Your Credit Rating

Credit ratings are a way to show how you compare to other people in the UK who borrow money and use credit. They are based on your credit score.

The ratings go from 1* to 5*. One fifth of the population falls into each rating category.

The lowest rating is 1*. This means a person is relatively high risk for credit. If this is your rating, you might have more difficulty obtaining credit or pay higher interest rates. A 5* rating is the highest, meaning that a person is more likely to be offered credit at the best rate of interest.

Monitoring your credit profile

If your credit profile changes, we let you know

We keep watch over your TransUnion credit profile 24 hours a day, 365 days of the year. If anything significant changes, we'll let you know in a weekly email or by text message to your mobile phone.

If you receive an alert telling you something has changed, just log in to your online account at credittracker.identitysecure.co.uk. You'll see what the alert was for and how it may affect your credit score, whether it's positive, negative or neutral.

Because we monitor your profile day and night, we will even tell you when nothing has changed. We'll send you a message each month this happens.

Choosing how we alert you

When you join, the default setting for your alerts is email. If you would like to change to receive these by text, log in at credittracker.identitysecure.co.uk and update your preferences in the My Profile area. Or call us on 0345 600 6237.

Find out how you can improve your credit profile

Your Credit Assessment is a series of straightforward questions to understand what type of finances you have and how you manage them. It should take about 10 minutes to complete in total, and provides you with personalised tips on how you can help to improve your credit score. If your credit score is declining, it may help you understand why and what you could do to improve it.

To take the Credit Assessment

You can call the Credit Tracker team on 0345 600 6237 and take the assessment over the phone.

You can take the assessment as often as you like.

Your Quarterly Summary

Every three months, we'll let you know that your Quarterly Summary is ready to view online. You can log in to view a summary of the activity on your TransUnion Credit Profile. It will show you your current credit score and how your score has changed during that period. If your score is going down then we'll tell you how you could potentially improve it.

It will also show you the alerts you have received over that period and the impact they have had on your credit profile.

Optional Cifas Protective Registration for added protection

If we identify that you may be at significant risk of identity theft or fraud, for example you may have had your passport or driving licence stolen – we may decide to register your details with Cifas, the UK's fraud prevention service.

It will provide you with an additional layer of protection when applications for credit are being made in your name. You can feel safe knowing that lenders will ask for additional security information and they will have to confirm directly with you any application made in your name before a loan or credit facility is granted.
